The screenshot shows a Windows 7 desktop environment. A large, solid black rectangular window occupies the majority of the screen area. Below this window, the Windows taskbar is visible, containing the Start button and several open application icons. From left to right, the taskbar includes: Internet Explorer, Google Chrome, and multiple instances of Microsoft Word. A small red icon, possibly a system tray icon or a window control button, is located in the bottom right corner of the black window. The desktop background is a light blue gradient.
